Figure S1. Bacterial composition of milk samples from our study compared to the Idaho dataset from Hunt and colleagues (16). The bars represent the taxonomic assignment of 16S rRNA pyrosequences to the RDP database at family level (A) and at genus level (B). Milk samples from the Idaho dataset are a mix from 1-10 months milk samples. From our dataset only milk samples from mothers who gave birth by vaginal delivery were selected for the comparison.