Briefings in Functional Genomics
Volume 10 • Number 5 • September 2011

Contents

Papers

249 Progress in the genetics of ankylosing spondylitis
Matthew A. Brown

258 New approaches to the representation and analysis of phenotype knowledge in human diseases and their animal models
Paul N. Schofield, John P. Sundberg, Robert Hoehndorf and Georgios V. Gkoutos

266 Systems approaches to modelling pathways and networks
Thomas Pfau, Nils Christian and Oliver Ebenhöh

280 Network-based methods for human disease gene prediction
Xiujuan Wang, Natali Gulbahce and Haiyuan Yu

294 From ‘JUNK’ to Just Unexplored Noncoding Knowledge: the case of transcribed Alus
Rajesh Pandey and Mitali Mukerji

312 The minimal genome—a metabolic and environmental comparison
Michael Thomas DeWall and Davis W. Cheng

Short Communication

316 Non-coding RNAs: could they be the answer?
Fabricio F. Costa
