Editor—Dr Stotz makes a reasonable point and highlights an oversight on our part. There is a practical difference between 5 yr registration and 5 yr registration with the GMC which has the potential to limit the availability of appropriate clinicians if applied incorrectly. At one time, the number of practising doctors to whom this applied would have been quite limited, but since the opening of borders to medical practitioners across Europe, there are many more that are affected by this.

Many thanks for the opportunity to respond to this.
