Supplementary Figure S1  Cost-effectiveness acceptability curve gonadotrophins compared with CC. This cost-effectiveness acceptability curve shows the probability that gonadotrophins are cost-effective compared with CC, given the observed data, for a range of values of the willingness to pay for an additional live birth. All costs are expressed in euros (2017).