SUPPLEMENTAL FIGURE 2 A representative chromatograph of an extracted ankle joint from a fish oil-fed mouse at day 21 pi. The sample was analyzed using chiral liquid chromatography mass spectrometry as described in the methods section. Commercially available R and S isomer standards were used to confirm the proper elution times. Although the graph was produced from a single sample it is representative of replicate samples (n=5).