Cover of the journal:
The triangle represents the three concepts included in the following sentences, the atomic energy basic law, chapter #1 and article #2 of Japan. The law reads “the research, development and utilization of atomic energy shall be limited to peaceful purpose, aimed at ensuring safety and performed independently under democratic management, the results there from shall be made public to contribute to international cooperation”. The cover has been designed and used under the concept from the first issue in 1960, and renewed after 2002.
