Cardiovascular protection by β-blockade in hypertensive haemodialysis patients: the Hypertension in Haemodialysis Patients Treated With Atenolol or Lisinopril (HDPAL) trial

Carmine Zoccali and Francesca Mallamaci

A percentage sign was incorrectly introduced after the number 2.36 in the following sentence:

‘Overall, the incidence rate ratio for major cardiovascular events was 2.36% higher in the lisinopril group, and the independent safety monitoring board recommended an early stop of the trial’.

The sentence should read:

‘Overall, the incidence rate ratio for major cardiovascular events was 2.36 higher in the lisinopril group, and the independent safety monitoring board recommended an early stop of the trial’.

The editors apologize for this error.
